Please answer the following questions in your own words:

Tell us about a challenge or difficulty you have faced in your life, and how you have approached it.

I have the privilege to attend some interviews for some once in a lifetime opportunities. I was introduced to an internship in one of the huge South African companies. Being as young and inexperienced as I was, I put all my cards in it, and it didn't go as I had hoped. I then again came close to getting a German scholarship, which is a great start in my fields of study. Regardless of all those disappointments, I kept and keep on going forward. I knew I had done my best, so I just thought 'I guess those were not for me after-all', that was of course after putting all the hardwork possible into getting them.

What are you most proud of?

I am proud of everything I have; my family, and just being me, regardless of hard being me has been lately, I still feel blessed to be me, who I am, and all the people I have in my life. I am also proud of my grade 12 performance. I think I could have done much better, but am still very much proud of what I did then.

What are your personal values? Why are these your values? Can you give examples from your life where your values made/make a difference?

My personal values are, love, open-mindedness, humility and honesty.

Honesty makes people trustworthy at all times and good to work with, and dependable. Open-minded people are much less arrogant and stubborn and have a room for learning and correction. Love for every other human being helps us want what's best for the other being regardless of how may be feeling; and humble people tend to be open-minded.

People in my life trusts me because they know I am honest and trustworthy. My ~~lose~~ humility, love and open-mindedness helps keep peace, keep situations (e.g. arguments) calm and productive.
